Celebrating Rocky

Everyone's favorite feathered friend got a big surprise on Wednesday, October 5 when hundreds of friends, including his mascot pals from other universities, surprised him with a party in the Student Center for his birthday. Staff and students joined the mascots – and a couple of superheroes – for games in the ballrooms, where there were gift card giveaways, a balloon artist, an ice cream truck, lots of selfies and a chance for student clubs and organizations to be on hand to give out information to students looking for ways to get involved.

Career Corner

By Adam Mayer, MA, GCDF, CPRW,
Director, University College Career and Academic Programming

We've all heard it before—it's not what you know, it's who you know.

This maxim still holds true and highlights the need for effective networking techniques. That said, be sure to build alliances and relationships, don't just ask for a job and recognize that networking is a process—it's not necessarily transactional. Use the following questions when networking: What trends/patterns do you see in your field? | What advice would you give yourself when you were in college? | Would you be open to reviewing my resume and cover letter? | Is there someone you recommend I reach out to for additional advice?

Nathaniel Frissell '07 Sound and Science

At first glance, the space between Frissell's early years as a Bloomfield High School marching band and choir member, ham radio enthusiast and dedicated Boy Scout and his current role as a research scientist might seem like a stretch of the imagination. But passion, hard work and his undergraduate years at Montclair State University blazed a most fascinating career path. [\[View full story\]](#)
